

ABA BJ Puzzle of the Week: 5/28/10

Scavenger Hunt Two

www.ababj.com, scocheo@sbpub.com May 27, 2010 Watch ABABankingJourn on Twitter for two clues

What's a Memorial Day Picnic without a scavenger hunt? You supply the food, we'll supply the indigestion.

All of the answers to this week's crossword can be hunted down in one of two places. First is our May print edition, or the identical digital edition which can be read at www.ababj.com. Second is in our recent blogs, all of which can be read at www.ababj.com; look towards the bottom of the home page for blog links. Some of the clues are straightforward. Others are sneaky or punny.

Fax your completed puzzle, with name, bank, title, and e-mail, by 5 PM, June 2, to 212-633-1165, to participate in a drawing for a $25 Amazon certificate. (Please allow three weeks for e-mailed delivery of the certificate to the e-mail address provided.) Good luck! scocheo@sbpub.com

ABA BJ Puzzle of the Week: 5/28/10

Scavenger Hunt Two: Clues

ACROSS

4. ABABJ's ABA Advisory Committee, that is, initially.
9. Real-estate law that gives bankers quirks, is subject of brand-new ABAWorks (p.39).
10. City where ABA Regulatory Compliance Conference, promoted on page 37, will be held.
12. Columnist sings the praises of Compliance this month.
15. This bank's recent BSA issue is the subject of Lucy Griffin's latest column in "Lucy and Nancy's Common Sense Compliance" blog.
16. CEO "passes the aspirin" twice.
18. Did you miss "Did you miss this?" in Banknotes, where this megabanker's shareholder letter was quoted?
19. This "First Person" deals with a gourdian challenge.
25. Bankers should note four remedies for this three-letter malady suffered by commercial real estate lenders (p.13).
27. Half of the ABA Compliance Center Inbox duo.
28. This overdraft product advertiser offers solutions that reach heights.
29. Eastern state takes four spots on $3 billion-plus performers list.
32. Type of mortgage described in Surveys & Trends department that was "only product type to show an increase from the previous year."
33. Overdraft advertiser is endorsed by ABA (p.43).
34. Is the quote on p. 39 a stretch? Or does it fit? In any event, it contains these encircling words at the last.

DOWN

1. This unusual metallic marsupial is also the nickname of our "Beyond the Bank" blogger.
2. Ten-cent bank takes spot 25 on 27.
3. Longtime banking analyst quoted on page 36.
5. Tool described in Investment Management column, that is fulfilling.
6. Topic of first Q&A in ABA Compliance Center Inbox.
7. Veteran banker brought NY attitude to Florida bank revamp.
8. "Banking is awash in _____" says a banker pictured on the phone.
11. Long-ago Bank of America official mentioned in Ed O'Leary's 5/26/10 "Talking Credit" blog.
13. While John Kanas is slicing into Florida, he needs this utensil.
14. "Buy local, pay local with your phone," method suggested in this "Noted" story.
16. Unusual vehicle to brew a solution to the issue of management succession in Community Banking.
17. The advertiser on this page would be a "prudential" choice.
20. Color community bankers are seeing over real estate appraisals.
21. "Examinations are a bear," headlines this advertiser's message, and that about covers it.
22. BSA/AML blogger John Byrne always works movie titles and pop music titles into his stories. Two of this artist's songs play a part in his 5/26/10 column.
23. Scholastic abbreviation for longtime ABABJ column where bankers help bankers, which is now also a blog on ababj.com
24. Lordly figure in first five pages lives a checkered life.
26. You can pay with this instead of bank notes, but you have to read Bank Notes to learn about it.
30. Subject of editor's column, banker told consumers to reconsider borrowing.
31. Chief Economist is one of this month's ABA Resources.
33. Inside front cover ad fights this form of ATM fraud.