Banking Circles 3 Word search . . . with a difference

Like wordsearch? Here's a banking wordsearch that's a bit different. Is it easy? Or deceptive? This word search, inspired by one of our favorite word games, Parker Brothers' Boggle™, goes beyond the usual horizontal, vertical, and diagonal, in two ways.

First, you can use any word you find where the letters are connected by one continuous line. The line can even cross itself. However, "continuous" is the key word. You can't skip or jump over one of the "bank circles" above, in forming the words. You'll find some straightforward words, but you'll also find some on zigzags, some on corners, and more. (See BRANCH above, as an example.) Second, the only words that count are those dealing with money, transactions, markets, financial services, regulations, examinations, business, and related topics.

Here's your challenge. We've given you a set of starter clues on the next page. You can enter the drawing if you find those. For each additional word you find that qualifies, you'll get one extra chance in the drawing.

Fax your completed page 2 of the puzzle, with name, bank, title, and e-mail, by 5 PM, Wednesday, October 19, to 212-633-1165, to participate in a drawing for a $25 Amazon gift certificate. Good luck! scocheo@sbspub.com
