Economics and economists, dismal science and dismal scientists. This week’s puzzle deals in quotes by, or about, this social science or its practitioners. They come from The Dictionary of Humorous Quotations (Paperback Library), edited by Evan Esar, and from Famous Last Words (Workman Publishing), edited by Ray Robinson.

In the five quotes above, the words are in the proper order, but the letters have been scrambled. Your tasks: (1) Find the right order so the quotes make sense, and write them in the spaces below the quote. (2) And when you’re done with that, put the number of the person who wrote or uttered the quote in the space next to the quote. (Five speakers match five quotes. The others are there to confuse you, but the people clues below the quotes are kind ... mostly.)

Fax your completed puzzle, with name, bank, title, and e-mail, by 5 PM, July 15, to 212-633-1165, to participate in a drawing for a $25 Amazon gift certificate. Good luck! scocheo@sbsub.com Watch ABABankingJourn on Twitter for two clues

For fun, send your own favorite quote about economists, with your name, title, and bank, and who said it. We’ll publish this along with the puzzle solution next week. E-mail to scocheo@sbsub.com, or include with your entry.
